served to give the inhabitants of this long suffering and mad bespattered city a foretaste of what yet remains in the "good time coming."

Oertainly, even one day's cleanliness in our principal thoroughfare is a consummation devoutly to be wished, and we hall it as a foretaste of what is still within the future. The people appear at last to be thoroughly aroused; the evil has been too grievous. It has been brought altogether too close to features and garments of our citizens to admit of any farther temporizing. The voice of the people has declared that this plague of mud is an abod fination not to be borne, and the declaration will have its effect in clean streets and salubrious airs. In other parts of the city, however, matters are as bad as ever; it would be well if the experiment just tried, to much to the satisfaction of the Broadway promenaders, could be extended to Nassau and Fulton streets, which last unfortunate localities actually out-Herod Herod, and have been latterly almost impassable. In connection with this mud business, we may without impropriety introduce the following bons jide incident, which occurred yesterday afternoon.

A man calling himself Wm. Midner, reported at the Coroner's office that a subject for an inquisition was lying at the house of Mr. Gillilin, corner of Thirty-fourth street and Sixth avenue. One of the Coroner's immediately despatched his deputy to the place, with orders to precure a jury, and have all in readiness when he should arrive. The deputy hastened to the house, but could find no subject for the Coroner except a huge mud monument, decorated in a very grave manner, which stood directly in front of the door. The house was apparent, and the deputy was greatly caraged, went in pursuit of Mr. Midner; but not finding him, he returned to the office to inform the Coroner, lest he too should visit the place; but he arrived too late, as the Coroner had gone up. When the office was closed last evening, the Coroner had not returned, he having probably been detained lenger than u Suffosid Piratical Vessil.—Capt. Foot, who came as a passenger in the Spanish bark Cataluna, from Barcelona, reports that on the 18th inst., when off the north coast of 8t. Domingo, a schooner, with no name on her stern, which, by her motions and appearance, was concluded to be a piratical vessel, was seen. She bore down on the bark at first, but perceiving that she was a large vessel, and likely to give some trouble, and not much prospect of a rich booty, as the bark was only lightly ballasted, she after wards sheered off. We understand that so confident to the belief in the piratical character of this craft, that the facts have been officially reported at the Spanish consulate in this city.—N. O. Picayune, Feb. 28.

Coroners' Inquests.

ERAWI CAUSED BY SCAIDS.—Coronor Gamble yesterday held an inquest on the body of a child named Ann Keevan, sixteen months old, who died in consequence of the uperting of a pan of boiling water over its face and nock, on the 16th of last month. Whence Proceed the Lassitude, the Depression, the debility, the indifference to life, the instability, the continual feeling of lilness which it is impossible to denne or localire, so common, so hard to bear, and so little pitied by the robust and healthly. We asswer, from the stomach and the nervous system, between which there exists the closest sympathy. Want of vital energy, eluggishness in the secretive organs, a general inertia of the system, is at the bottom of all the difficulty. To rouse the whole organization from the torpor, to imbue it with new life, activity and vigor, and to sustain it in that condition, there is no preparation comparable with Dr. Morse's lavigorating Elixir or Cordial. Other stimuli may excite the dormant physical energies for a time, but like the night-flash of the lighthing that leaves behind it a desper gloom, the exhibition of these exhiberants is followed, after the first convulsive effect is over, by a depression of body and mind more profound and paralysing than ever. The remedy is literally worse than the disease. But the Elixir has a dynamic influence. It not only creates a new condition of the physical organization, but perpetuates it. The animal spirits are not only cheered and elevated by its agency, but kept up to their new level without flagging. A Wonderful Discovery Has Recently Been made by Dr. Curtis, of this city, in the treatment of consumption, as thma and all diseases of the lungs. We refer to "Dr. Curtis' bycena, or inhaling bycena vapor and cherry syrup." With this new method Dr. C. has restored many afficied ones to perfect health, as an evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Speaking of the treatment, a physician remarks. "It is evident that by inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing vapor—the medical properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the serial cavity of the lung, and thus escape the many and varied changes produced upon them when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion."

CONSUMPTION NEW YORK, Dec. 27, 1833.

I came to New York in the ship Telegraph; my native place is $t. John, New Brunswick; when I reached this city my health was very poor; had a very had cough, raised a good deal of matter, which was frequently mixed with blood had pain in my left side, and was very weak and emaciated. My friends and physician pronounced my case consumption, and beyond the reach of medicine. I accidentally heard of Dr. Curtis' hyceans, or inhaling hygean vapor and cherry syrup, and obtained a package, which I verily believe was the means of saving my life. Soon after waring the inhaler I found it relieved the pressure on my lungs, and after a while the disease made its appearance upon the surface under the inhaler. I took the cherry syrup as directed, and continued to do for, my cough greanant for my on the surface under the inhaler, as the use of its rather pleasant, and believing it strengthening and purifying to the lungs, feel unwilling at present to dispense with it.
